

ON AIR

VACANCY

Chief Financial Officer

Requirements

- Minimum of 10 years of working experience in finance, M&A, private equity or consulting and 5 years of managerial experience
- Experience within the technology sector
- External fundraising (including knowledge of Dutch and European subsidies) and/or securing financing
- Understanding of local IFRS and GAAP rules in multiple territories
- Strong problem-solver

 Baarn  Minimum of 10 years experience

Missed the opportunity to get tickets to an event? ON AIR enables fans to enjoy live entertainment events from their living room via high quality live streams. Key to ON AIR's offering is their premium production quality. The company is growing and an experienced Chief Financial Officer will be added to the leadership team.

ABOUT THE COMPANY

About ON AIR

ON AIR is a platform for on-stage entertainment in all genres, delivering the highest quality livestream experiences. ON AIR uniquely partners directly with artist teams, brand partnership teams and production stakeholders to deliver full swing production and distribution of any live streaming. The company takes ownership of the creative production, the streaming platform and PR, media and marketing activities.

ON AIR is founded by u. Digital, a family-owned investment company. Jakub Krampfl, who started ON AIR, is the CEO. His background is in investment banking in London, specializing in tech and media.

The CEO and COO, who are leading the company, have a huge ambition to raise funds and to grow the company together with a new CFO. The team of On Air consists of approximately 20fte and has its headquarters in Baarn.

VACANCY

Chief Financial Officer

ON AIR are currently expanding with an experienced, hands-on individual for the position of CFO. The CFO will have broad responsibility across corporate, operational, financial and accounting functions to ensure financial stability. They will play a key role in upcoming fundraisings and will continue to drive the company's growth.

The company is growing; for this reason ON AIR expands with a strong CFO. The company leadership already laid the groundwork for the CFO to build their financial department. The CFO will compose and lead the finance teams to ensure that the company can excel in day-to-day delivery and future needs.

The CFO manages the financial performance of the company by developing internal controls and monitoring ongoing performance. They develop short term and long term forecasts and resource allocations, by clearly articulating key drivers of the business and costs. The CFO designs reporting tools to provide management insights into revenue and operating expenses, project spending, headcount, risks and opportunities.

Moreover, the CFO develops models and conducts analyses with large amounts of data to identify critical trends to support strategic decision-making and create forward visibility. The CFO prepares monthly, quarterly and yearly management accounts including variance analysis of actual operating capital and project costs versus plans, forecasts and the prior year.

The CFO position reports directly to the CEO and will interact on a regular basis with other senior managers and employees. ▪

Interested? ON AIR has appointed Top of Minds to fill this vacancy. To express your interest, please contact Annelijn Nijhuis at annelijn.nijhuis@topofminds.com.

“ON AIR provides the opportunity for customers to monetize and connect with their global fanbase through the highest quality livestream experiences.”

Jakub Kramp, CEO at ON AIR