Intergas

Intergas is the leading player in the Netherlands for high-efficiency boilers and hybrid heat pumps. The company is the driving force behind technological innovations in the sector. With its smart solutions, Intergas leads the charge in the heating transition—helping homeowners and installers achieve more sustainable, cost-effective heating. Intergas develops its products entirely in-house (hardware, software, and electronics) and has scored best in many tests for the past decade. It comes as no surprise that almost half of all Dutch boilers are manufactured by Intergas and that its new hybrid models are considered the most compact, cost-effective, and sensible solution for existing buildings.

Since 2019, Intergas has been part of Rheem, a strong international player in cooling and heating systems with annual sales of around six billion euros and operations in over fifty countries. As part of its European growth strategy, Rheem also acquired DEJONG in 2022. With the addition of this world-leading manufacturer of stainless-steel hot water tanks and the acquisition of Germany's MHG Heiztechnik in 2023, Rheem has built an excellent foundation for its leading role in Europe's energy transition. ▶

Ready for the future of HVAC

The HVAC industry in Europe is changing rapidly. The energy transition and resulting European and national regulations pose both a challenge and an opportunity for an innovative player like Intergas. Competition is growing, and customers increasingly need sustainable, yet cost-effective solutions. As a European industry leader, Intergas strives to maintain its reputation for quality while setting the organization up for future success. Structural changes have led to the creation of a new Product Category Management department to meet changing customer demands and accelerate the speed-to-market of its innovations while reducing costs. ▶

Vacancy

Senior Product Delivery Manager

As part of the new Product Category Management department, the Senior Product Delivery Manager (PDM) is responsible for overseeing the successful execution of Intergas' products and services roadmaps. They translate the strategies and priorities of the Product Category Managers (PCM) for Boilers, Digital, and Hybrid Solutions into projects that build upon the company's expertise through cross-functional project teams. The PDM plans and monitors the execution of these projects so the teams deliver milestones on time and within budget.

The PDM has a pivotal role in positioning the new Product Category Management department within the organization, defining processes and ways of collaborating with Innovation, Engineering, and Product Management in the local commercial organizations. Responsible for the end-to-end delivery, the PDM manages the planning, scheduling, risk management, resource allocation, and communication with stakeholders. The Senior PDM gets the support from a junior PDM and reports to the Product Category Management Team Lead. ▶

This is an exciting opportunity for an experienced project manager who knows how to get results in cross-functional teams with multiple stakeholders. Excellent at multi-tasking and communication, highly organized and energetic, they identify opportunities and threats early on and think out of the box to come up with solutions and innovative approaches that serve Intergas and its stakeholders. ■
