Svalner Atlas Advisors is launching its Financial Due Diligence (FDD) practice in the Netherlands to strengthen the M&A offering for its corporate and private equity clients. Amongst the team of senior M&A professionals, the Director will take ownership of projects and develop talent, helping to establish a dynamic, market-leading practice.

About Svalner Atlas Advisors

Svalner Atlas Advisors is the premier independent advisory group in Northern Europe. Formed in 2024 through the merger of the Dutch firm Atlas and Swedish Svalner, the group now has a team of over three hundred and fifty professionals and offices spanning Stockholm, Amsterdam, Helsinki, Oslo, Gothenburg, Copenhagen and Turku. Together, they provide clients with top-tier advice in tax, transaction services and related services.

Svalner Atlas Advisors combines the energy of a scale-up with the depth and stability of an established firm. The founders are seasoned professionals with Big Four backgrounds who aimed to create an alternative practice: a lean and smart firm where top-tier talent can thrive through providing partner-led advice to clients with true commercial value. The firm partners with ambitious companies, funds, and entrepreneurs to deliver solutions that are both sophisticated and down-to-earth.

Whether advising on a cross-border M&A deal or designing a tailored tax structure, Svalner Atlas Advisors delivers practical expertise with impact. The group is scaling fast, launching new practices, entering new markets, and investing in technology, people, and long-term client relationships.

Director Financial Due Diligence

Svalner Atlas Advisors is launching its Financial Due Diligence (FDD) practice in the Netherlands to meet growing client demand and expand its M&A offering. The Director will be one of the first senior hires in this entrepreneurial team, working alongside the FDD Partner to deliver complex due-diligence projects and build a high-performing team. This is a rare opportunity to help build a practice from the ground up, making a visible impact within a fast-growing international firm and contributing directly to a long-term success story.

The Director will manage financial due diligence assignments end-to-end, from analysis and modelling to reporting and client interaction. The Dutch team collaborates closely with its colleagues across the Nordic and Benelux network, contributing to knowledge-sharing, methodology, and best practice. The practice is already supported by international secondments, giving the Dutch team direct access to Nordic expertise and creating early opportunities for cross-border collaboration.

This hands-on role combines strategic oversight with day-to-day delivery, balancing project leadership with the willingness to roll up their sleeves. The candidate will build trusted relationships with clients and identify opportunities for value creation and growth. They will also mentor managers and consultants, shape the team's development, and support commercial expansion. Long-term, Svalner Atlas Advisors aims on scaling the practice to between fifteen and twenty professionals within two years, delivering consistent recurring revenue, and establishing Svalner Atlas Advisors as the leading independent alternative to the Dutch private equity mid-market.

The preferred candidate is an experienced FDD professional with a strong track record in private equity transactions and a proven ability to create opportunities through client relationships. They are technically strong, commercially aware, and eager to contribute beyond delivery, by shaping methodology, driving business, and building a team. The Director brings sound judgment, a collaborative spirit and an entrepreneurial mindset that thrives in a fast-growing environment.

“This is a rare opportunity to combine Big Four quality and the energy of a scale-up within a top tier professional boutique, offering real ownership and the chance to help build a leading practice.”

Michiel Koopmanschap,
FDD Partner

Based in the heart of Amsterdam, the Director will play a key role in shaping and expanding Svalner Atlas Advisors’s transaction services in the Netherlands, combining hands-on project delivery with team development and client leadership. This is a unique opportunity for an experienced financial due diligence professional with the ambition to help build a practice from the ground up and grow into a clear path toward partnership.
